May 26, 2010

Dear Friends,

It is my honor to welcome, through the pages of this journal, all those in attendance at the annual Erev Tov dinner dance of Westchester Fairfield Hebrew Academy.

For the past 12 years, the Westchester Fairfield Hebrew Academy has served the Westchester community by instilling values of Jewish pride, culture, and tradition to its incredible student body. The Westchester Fairfield Hebrew Academy, with its open door policy, stays central in their approach to educate all who wish to learn. They look deep into the soul of every child and help them to tap into their potential and achieve greatness. With an enriched and challenging curriculum, the students at Westchester Fairfield Hebrew Academy are taught the importance of caring for one another and the intrinsic value of supporting the State of Israel. I am grateful that our children, and the next generation of leaders of Klal Yisrael, are learning these valuable lessons.

I am honored to be able to recognize the accomplishments of this evening's honorees. Beth and Brad Boyer, Sari Dweck and Larry Ginsburg, and Rhonda Schaffer-Marion and Jeff Marion are all leaders of their families and community. By taking action in the development and shape of their surroundings, they are pioneers who know that we all have the responsibility to carry the weight of the world together. I thank them for their service and efforts.

On behalf of the State of Israel, I commend you all for your continued support, and extend my best wishes for many more years of health and success.

Sincerely,

Asaf Shariv
Consul General
